

THE NATIONAL LAW JOURNAL

ALM.

SEPTEMBER/OCTOBER 2022

A SPECIAL REPORT

ELITE TRIAL LAWYERS

The National Law Journal recently honored attorneys and law firms for their outstanding legal work across a broad range of practice areas on behalf of clients and in the courtroom. Here's a look at the winners and their accomplishments.

RISING STARS OF THE PLAINTIFFS BAR

Christopher Young—
Joseph Saveri Law Firm, LLP

■ Tell us about your biggest client wins this year. In addition to In re Capacitors Antitrust Litigation (N.D. Cal.), I am intimately involved on several other successful high-profile cases via managing discovery, taking depositions, briefing dispositive motions, arguing summary judgment motions, and the like. In January 2021 Short Squeeze Trading Litigation (S.D. Fla.), I manage the case's daily functions and am a principal drafter for dispositive motions. In Jessica Robinson v. Jackson Hewitt, Inc. and Tax Services of America, Inc. (D. N.J.), I likewise manage daily functions and discovery (for example, taking numerous depositions), and I was heavily involved in the successful efforts to amend the complaint to extend the class period to the present.

■ What's the best lesson you learned as a young lawyer? Be resilient and stick to your guns. The unexpected always seems to arise, so adhere to your core principles.

■ What's been the most significant change in your practice area and how have you adjusted? Maintaining flexibility, understanding, and empathy in nurturing collaborative relationships as the world has shifted to remote work.

CHRISTOPHER YOUNG

■ Share an interesting fact about your firm that few know. The firm has a deep collegial atmosphere and is committed to the development and success of everyone at all levels. ■